

Hello and welcome .You are now looking at gohighlevel dot com and GoHighLevel is a platform.

that will allow you to build your own agency and sell products and services to business related customers or to traditional retail customers . If you have business customers.

you can use the platform to help them to build websites, to help them to have surveys and forms and to help them to do online appointments scheduling You can also build membership.

sites for your customers Depending on which level of service that you purchase you can.

white label your services and distribute them and sell them to your customers Having the.

white label means that you can offer the agency platform to other marketers that want to create an agency for their business The company does have different levels of pricing depending.

on where you want to start or what you want to offer And as of the recording of this.

video there are three pricing tiers The company does have an affiliate program so that if.

you want to demonstrate to other people how to use the platform and to bring them into high level you can earn a sales commission And creating an account as a high level affiliate.

is free to do To get a sense for the kind of services that high level offers if you.

understand HubSpot you can understand some of the services that high level offers There.

are some individuals that will use the platform as an email platform And they then provide.

that platform to customers so they can do their own email marketing or their text message marketing The high level platform starts with a 14 day free trial so you can determine.

if the platform will be something that you can use profitably Now in setting up the.

14 day free trial you will need to add a payment method that will not be charged on the day in which you set up the account but will be charged if you go beyond the 14 day period.

And so we will undertake this in the next video Okay so with that thanks and I will see you in another video.